Registration for the Final ASPIS Open Symposium 2026 will be open until 1 June 2026.

Participation is limited to a maximum of 150 attendees and will be granted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Join the final ASPIS Open Symposium to learn about the achievements of the ASPIS cluster and enjoy the vibrant and historic city of Maastricht – one of the oldest cities in the Netherlands, beautifully situated along the river Meuse. Known for its rich history, charming streets, lively squares, and international atmosphere, Maastricht offers the perfect backdrop for this final cluster event.

This year's programme will also include a poster contest (ASPIS cluster only), where ASPIS researchers will showcase their work, offering participants an excellent opportunity to engage directly with the ASPIS community.

Animal-Free Safety Assessment of Chemicals:
Project Cluster for Implementation of Novel Strategies

These projects have received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No. 963845 (ONTOX), No. 965406 (PrecisionTox), No. 964537 (RISK-HUNT3R).

ASPIS brings together the three consortia funded under the European Commission's call for advancing the safety assessment of chemicals without the use of animal testing.

Collectively, ASPIS represents more than 70 institutions across 16 European countries and the U.S., delivering on a €60 million investment to provide timely and reliable insights into chemicals' effects on human health.

Together, they form the largest public investment in Europe dedicated to advancing chemical safety assessment without animal testing.

The cluster is composed of three major EU Horizon 2020 research projects:

The ASPIS Academy is a network under the auspices of ASPIS for Early-Stage Researchers (ESRs) who are into developing and using New Approach Methodologies (NAMs) in toxicology. The ASPIS Academy aims to boost ESRs' careers by offering specialized trainings, workshops and webinars.
